Most Memorable Moment...

"Playing in the rain for all 18 holes. I was soaked in the end, but it was a lot of fun. And getting my first birdie at Sandy Pines."

- Senior Rachel Kucan.

"The most memorable moments were always right before our matches when we would talk about the goals we wanted to reach for ourselves. It was always uplifting to be able to feel the support of my team right before we play."

- Junior Jessica Lopez

Sophomore Katie
Derek eyes her next shot on the putting green at Turkey Creek.

Junior Rachel Boland reads the break and lines

Front row: Ryan DesCamp, Kevin Madayag, Matt Boland, Ivan Bourge, David Svoboda

Final Moments

"At the end of the season, having a 500 record for the first time in three years."

- Senior Chris Gagne

"The team finishing the season with the best record in the four years I have played."

- Senior Matthew Boland

"It was definitely playing sectionals against Merrillville. Although I lost in three sets, the whole atmosphere was just awesome."

- Junior David Svoboda

*To our Alma Mater raise
Voices filled with love and praise.
Our covenant with her shall be
Undying loyalty.
Proudly wearing red and gold,
Her sons and daughters shall uphold
Andrean's fame,
Her glorious name,
her honor ever proclaim.*

The seal is a circle surmounted by an open book, the symbol of education. The open pages of the book are imprinted with the Alpha and Omega, the first and last letters of the Greek alphabet, symbols for Christ, the beginning and end of all things. The motto of the school, "Magister Meus Christus" (Christ is My Teacher), was the last sentence spoken by St. Andrew before his martyrdom. These words fill the outer rim of the circle, and incorporate the entire philosophy of the school and the reason for its existence.

Upper Left: Gold x-shaped cross (crux decussata), symbolizing loyalty and faithfulness, the cross on which St. Andrew died.

Lower Left: Gold double-barred cross, symbol of SS. Cyril & Methodius. The three blue peaks beneath the cross are the Tatry Mountains of Slovakia. The red symbolizes the suffering of the Slavic people.

Upper Right: Gold Greek cross, set on a background of red. The cross is the symbol of St. Basil, doctor of the Greek Church, and patron of the Basilian Fathers.

Lower Right: Four black and three silver bars represent steel ingots, the principle industry of Northwest Indiana.

... Fifty-Niner isn't a date or street number or a miner or a freight train or an old man with a long white beard. Rather, it represents something more splendid than we realize.

Fifty-Niner is a proper noun. It stands for a group of very courageous and sacrificing human beings, your parents and others like them, who out of their boundless generosity, have built a school where you can receive the truth of Christ from people dedicated to Christianity.

And you, and everyone who comes after you, are Fifty-Niners, too. For you embody the spirit of those who faced the odds with courage and gave you this opportunity. You can say, Christ is my Teacher because they were willing to carry His cross.

Now that you have received, you must give. You must give of your talent and your time in measuring up to the spirit of the Fifty-Niners, which you have received. It is for you to immortalize that spirit in all your undertakings -- be they spiritual, academic, artistic, or athletic.

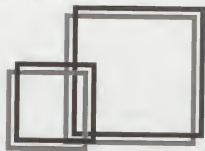

Wake up Fifty-Niners! Realize what you are! In 1959 a vision became a reality -- a dream came true.

YOU are that vision.

YOU are that dream.

Be real and true -- *Fifty-Niners!

Cars are more than just a mode of transportation. For some they are a medium of expression, a way to display one's character. Others choose their cars based on muscle and the great feeling that comes from being behind the wheel of a fast car. "My Dad and uncle have always been into cars and that got me mechanically inclined," said senior Michael Lanmeyer of his interest in cars, "but it wasn't until I went to my first real race and saw all the guys in action that I began to love the atmosphere and people associated with cars."

Delta Ep

Service to others.

One of the main goals of German Honor Society is to aid others in need. Each year Delta Ep sends blankets, handmade by the members, to injured American soldiers at the army hospital in Landstuhl, Germany. At Thanksgiving, Delta Ep organizes the donation of canned goods to the St. Monica food shelter in Gary. Over fifty students attended the meal, eager to help serve others. Delta Ep members must have completed three full semesters of German and must maintain a 'B' average.

Hundreds of canned goods sit in convent 9's closet, ready to be transported to the soup kitchen.

The current Student Council Executive Board did an excellent job this year planning activities and ensuring that the students at 5959 Broadway were kept up to date with current events and future plans. From the daily announcements, to Andrean Wear Day requests, to planning and executing major events like Armageddon, the Student Council was a huge part of everyday life. Without the efforts of the board members and Homeroom senators, many events like the Homecoming and Turnabout dances would not have been possible.

Chess Club

After a hiatus of several years, Andrean's Chess Club was resurrected by senior Miguel Limjoco. The club resumed its activities at the beginning of 2009 in Mr. Giorgio's room. Meetings were held on Tuesdays after school when members competed against each other and discussed strategies to win.

International Rosary

The International Rosary takes place twice a year, once in the fall semester and once in the spring. Organized by the foreign language teachers, a decade is said in each of the five languages taught at Andrean: French, German, Latin, Russian, and Spanish. This year's spring praying was dedicated to former Vice Principal Julie Herr. At both events, over one hundred students, teachers and even some parents and future Niners attended.

Senior Megan Muta reads a Joyful Mystery and a decade of Hail Marys.

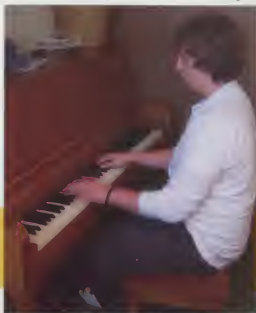

Seniors Catherine Fotia, Liz Pagorek and Hillary Pagorek pray during the International Rosary.

Senior Michael Langmeyer plays the piano before the service begins.

Students of all grades sit and pray while Mrs. Kucka and the French class read a Joyful Mystery and recite a decade of Hail Marys.

Mrs. Brandewie commences the prayers with the first decade of Hail Marys.

HISPANIC HERITAGE MONTH

Spanish Potluck

The Spanish Potluck was an opportunity for students to learn more about Hispanic culture, enjoy activities and experience things like authentic foods, and music.

"This was a great opportunity to learn and be open and accepting of other culture," said Senior Kevin Madayag.

The Mariachi band played authentic Mexican music, entertaining everyone in attendance. The cafeteria was decorated in a Spanish theme displaying the many influences of the culture.

Courtesy of the administration and some gentle prodding by the Student Council, the Halloween dress-up was once again approved this year for students to display their favorite costumes. Many students stayed with tradition and dressed as ninjas, pirates or Uncle Sam. Others took a more unconventional approach.

Seniors Kim Anton, Kapria Jones-Smith, and Geoff Pole show their Halloween spirit as a cat, a pirate and Ash.

Seniors Matt Boland and Nikki Massoels make connections.

Junior Rachel Boland dons her samurai mask and sword.

Fall Play "A Christmas Carol"

Written and published in 1843 by Charles Dickens, "A Christmas Carol" is one of the most popular Christmas plays around the world and is certainly Dickens' most well known story. Written in only two months, it was immediately ready for publication in time for the Christmas season. It has been noted that "A Christmas Carol" transformed the Christmas season from a time of prayer and reflection to a celebration and feast.

A guest (Joanna Goins) at Fred's Christmas Eve party plays a game with close friends and family.

Ebenezer Scrooge (Geoff Pole) scolds Bob Cratchit for being merry during the Christmas season and rejects his request for the day off.

Mrs. Candlewick (Anita Murrell) and Mrs. Peartree (Kim Anton) narrate the story for the audience.

The Ghost of Christmas Past (Nick Watson) haunts Scrooge with thoughts of his past. Like many people, Scrooge has done some things that he wishes he could take back.

The Spirit of Christmas Present (Stephanie Rescan) explains what the Christmas season means to people like the Cratchits.

Mrs. Winslow (Emily Gulbrandsen) rests her head on Martha Cratchit's (Kristin Walker) shoulder after hearing the news of Tiny Tim's death.

Scrooge hands a young girl (Aimee Perhach) some money to buy a Christmas turkey.

Tiny Tim (Olivia Medved) speaks with Bob Cratchit about taking Christmas Day off. Unfortunately, Scrooge despises Christmas and Bob cannot have the day off.

Belle (Hillary Back) explains to a young Scrooge (Peter Mueller) why they must never see each other again.

Geoff Pole presents flowers to Ms. Sarah Rios after her first play as Andean's new Theater Director.

After receiving her certificate of membership, Junior Carolyn Chorch is congratulated by Father Quanz and Mrs. Pete on being inducted into the National Honor Society.

Treasurer Kaitlin Schneider leads the Mass attendees and new inductees in prayer.

National Honor Society Induction

Membership in the National Honor Society is based on a student's outstanding performance in the areas of scholarship, service, leadership and character. These criteria form the foundation upon which the organization and its activities are built. Students who apply for membership are evaluated by the faculty committee. Once admitted, members must maintain the standards set for the local chapter. The annual induction ceremony is a highlight of membership for Andrean inductees.

Senior Courtney Schmidt speaks about the importance of Scholarship in consideration for induction into the National Honor Society.

Juniors Elizabeth Mirabella, James Scott Morrison, and senior Andrew Mrzlock recite the NHS pledge.

Father Quanz addresses the significance of being inducted to the National Honor Society.

National Honor Society

The National Honor Society was very active this year, as usual. In addition to adding forty-one new members, the NHS sponsored several events including the Winter Sock-Hop and Armageddon bake sale. All proceeds, of course, went to various charities. "NHS was extremely successful this year, with thanks to its dedicated officers and its hardworking memebers," said President Josh Davis. "We accomplished our goal of extending the principles of NHS: character, scholarship, leadership; and service, to the whole Andrean community."

Acropolis

Andreas's school newspaper, the Acropolis, worked hard this year to produce a paper that would be both informative and entertaining for its readers. After winning the Gallup award last year, this year's staff of nearly 30 students were dedicated to improve upon that success and create the best possible newspaper. Working through endless deadlines, the Acropolis staff attempted to keep the student body up to date on all things happening around the school during the year. "With such a talented staff, it was possible to achieve so much. I am really thankful for all of the wonderful people we had on staff this year! With everyone working together we were able to overcome any obstacle we faced," said Editor-in-Chief Kaitlin Schneider.

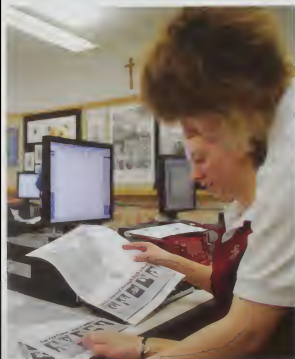

Senior Pedro Villarruel double checks a draft of a story about to be sent to print.

Editor-in-Chief Kaitlin Schneider enlists the help of senior Mary Boland while putting the finishing touches on the May Senior Edition.

Junior Scotty Morrison proofreads his story before sending it to print.

Writing for the Acropolis is no easy task. In between first and final drafts, many corrections are made to perfect each story.

Improving Lives

With over ninety students donating blood, the Student Council's annual Blood Drive was an even bigger success than in previous years. Red Cross volunteers arrived early in the morning on March 31st to set up chairs, beds, monitors and other equipment necessary for the procedures.

Senior Garret Goodwin has given blood twice. "As a healthy young adult, it is important to donate blood. It could possibly save the life of someone who needs a transfusion."

Students aged 16 are now allowed to donate with a signed parent permission slip. This age requirement modification was very successful, accounting for nearly a quarter of this year's donations.

"I wanted to help people," said Senior Kelli Parks. "It is an opportunity to do the right thing."

German Basketball Tournament

Each year, at the time of March Madness, the German classes get together in the small gym and compete in a Basketball tournament. The regular rules of basketball do not apply here, though. A basket is equal to one point and one point only; however, the rules regarding fouls are more lenient. A blatant foul in basketball is considered fair play in this tournament. The defending champion senior team was unable to pull through with a second victory this year. The juniors were ultimately victorious after a close final against the sophomores.

Faith in Context

Seniors Kim Anton, Kevin Franchetti and Pedro Villaruel fill a Mandala with different colors of sand.

Students in every grade must take a religion class, but these credits do more than satisfy a requirement. In many cases, these classes have helped students to understand faith and even life on a deeper level. From freshman year Roman Catholic Church to senior year World Religions, each class brings new insight.

Each class has a different message. Not every moment is spent on church history. Many days, class discussion is directed toward life lessons. "Theology really taught me about life and the adversities many people are faced with," said Junior Elizabeth Mirabella, a student in Miss Bolakowski's class. "As well as how to overcome obstacles that you are faced with."

Seniors Dom Frankovich and Kelly Tunberg work on planning their mock wedding in Life Choices.

Thinking outside the books...

Students in the Honors and AP science classes participated in many labs throughout the year. Words in a book can only go so far; these activities helped the students put what they learned into real life. The AP Bio classes dissected baby pigs and the AP Physics classes shot rockets and busted bridges during the year.

"They [the labs] always went with what we were learning, so instead of looking at it on the pages of a textbook you actually see it happen. It made concepts and calculations a lot easier to understand," said senior Elle Rice of her experience in the AP chemistry class.

Senior Anita Murrell's rocket lifts off from a makeshift launch pad in the visitors parking lot by the football field.

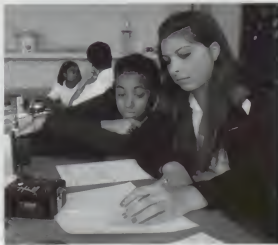

Seniors Kristin Walker and Chris Gagne observe a baby pig's heart.

Seniors Megan Egert and Brianna Turek pour a chemical compound into their test tubes.

Juniors Scotty Morrison and Andre Smith use an electrometer to measure the charge of their experiment.

Using a prism, seniors Summer Bullock and Jordan Cicillian measure the refraction of the light.

African American History Club

The African American History Club organized the pep assembly in February. The main focus was on prejudice, specifically racism. Guest speaker Danny Lackey discussed the history of prejudice in America and how far our country has come in ridding itself of inequality. The show also included a performance by sophomore Tyler Frank, the Andrean Gospel Choir and an original poem by Senior Kapria Jones-Smith. At the end of the ceremony, each class chose two students to represent them in a history review game. Each class earned points for correct answers; however, it came down to a dance-off between Dom Blanco for the seniors and Antonio Barber for the juniors. Needless to say the seniors took the victory.

President Summer Bullock and Vice President Mignon Ramsey worked tirelessly to prepare the day's activities.

Senior Dom Blanco shows off his dance moves and wins the competition for the seniors.

Guest speaker Danny Lackey speaks about prejudice in America.

"...My music choice includes rock and roll. Don't get me wrong I still got soul..."
The poem entitled "I'm Not Black Enough?" was written by senior Kapria Jones-Smith and recited during the assembly. Its message conveyed the importance of accepting people for who they are and not by who they hang out with or their interests.

The Gospel Choir led by Ms. Rios performed two pieces.

Bridge Bust Competition

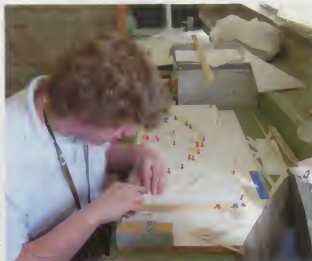

Each team of two was required to design a bridge and replicate that design with balsa wood and Elmer's glue.

Seniors Cameron Wilson and Andres Ramirez work on cutting wood and assembling their bridge.

Seniors Thomas Polus and Brady Choe speak with judges while making final adjustments to their bridge.

With pins holding the pieces in place, Senior Garret Goodwin lines up a support beam and cuts it to fit.

The May 15 Armageddon games gave every student the chance to display his or her talents and abilities and a chance to gain points for their class. All grades put their hearts into the activities during the end of year celebration; however, it was the seniors who ultimately came through with the victory. In games ranging from Chess to Dodgeball, the students at 5959 Broadway competed fiercely to attain the much coveted bragging rights that come with winning Armageddon. The junior class enjoyed a slight lead after they defeated the sophomores in girls dodgeball, but the seniors' first place finish in the boys dodgeball game secured the victory for the class of '09.

Andreas's Top Ten

Co-Valedictorian: Anita Murrell

"Relax, whatever is meant to happen for you will. Just make sure you are happy. Nothing is worth more than your happiness."
Harvard University

Co-Valedictorian: Megan Muta

"To achieve any goal, it is important to have faith, to not only be willing to help others but also to have the courage to ask others for help when you need it."
Valparaiso University

Salutatorian: Joshua Davis

"It matters more how you get there than where you end up."
Indiana University-Purdue University Indianapolis

4. Joseph Krilich

"You only get one chance to live every moment."

THE CONGREGATION OF ST. BASIL
Working hard, loving the Lord and our brothers and sisters, and laughing often, our goal is to bring others to Christ, our teacher and Lord.

If you are interested in the Basilians, or have thought about a religious vocation, it is highly recommended that you do the following:

- * Begin meeting with a Basilian of your choice for counsel about spirituality, educational choices, etc.
- * Spend time with those who live the life that interests you
- * Pray often and receive the sacraments regularly
- * Read quality books
